MONTHLY/QUARTERLY REPORTS:
U.S. BUREAU OF RECLAMATION REPORT
Roy Vaughan provided a PowerPoint presentation reviewing the following:
- As of October 12, 2015 there were 187,671 acre-feet stored in Pueblo Reservoir; 112,721 acre-feet of Project water; 52,101 acre-feet of Excess Capacity water; 22,723 acre-feet of Winter water.
- There is currently 127,261 acre-feet of Project space in Pueblo Reservoir and 8,514 acre-feet of space in Turquoise and Twin Lakes Reservoirs.
- Project Reservoirs: Turquoise 107%; Twin Lakes 105%; Pueblo 138%
- Boustead Imports 72,206 acre-feet
- Storage Capacity and Remaining Storage

Mr. Vaughan reported the collection system has been shut down and is being winterized and the Mt. Elbert Conduit is off. Reclamation plans on moving 55,000 acre-feet from the upper reservoirs. Movement of water will be adjusted according to the forecast and customer’s needs.

Mr. Vaughan reported as of May 2012, at active conservation use elevation 4,880.49, the reservoir surface area was 4,453 acres with a capacity of 245,862 acre-feet. Since dam closure in January 1974 a total capacity change of 19,001 acre-feet below conservation elevation 4,880.49 was measured, resulting in a 7.17 percent loss in reservoir capacity (2012-11,576 acre-feet). The capacity change is primarily due to sediment deposition and partially due to methodology differences between this survey and previous surveys.

A lengthy discussion was had regarding the sedimentation issue. Mr. Broderick said this issue will be discussed at future committee meetings.
